How to Make Money with Ebay

We see more and more money being made on Ebay. I don't know about you, but I have had a great experience when shopping on Ebay so I can understand why this has turned into a money making machine.

When doing my research I found many people searching for both Appliances & Appliance Parts. What a great type of business to own. Think about it. You can make serious money from the comfort of your home. All of this is possible due to the unlimited access to millions of people daily.

When doing my research I found the following types of Appliance Parts Being Sold:

- * Dryer - Fuses, timers, heating elements, etc...
- * Washing Machine - Water Pumps, Door Gaskets, etc...
- * Refrigerators - Water Filters, Circuit Boards, etc...
- * Stoves - burners, knobs, circuit boards, etc...

I wanted to focus on the Ebay Home Appliance Parts that are available to us. What I found when researching this type of business is it's all about duplication. You can both try and reinvent the wheel, which takes a lot of time and time is money or you can follow in someone else's footsteps. Go to Ebay and take notes on the following;

- * Step-by-step guidance on how to create and operate an Ebay Store.
- * How to get the highest bids and offers.
- * Learn from over 25 Power Sellers.
- * Savvy advice from people who are profitable.

They offered many other things, but the real thing, in my opinion, is that the path has been paved for success. All you need to do is follow it. Why go up the slow, costly learning curve yourself when you can share success like many other have done before you?

The other thing I noticed is that you can get a lot of free information so that you can make an informed decision. This is always important to me. I want to be able to review what I'm getting before spending my hard earned money.

You may want to simply make some money selling items you have obtained from Appliances you were given for free, bought a yard sale or Auction or just found that was put outside on some ones drive way. A small percentage of profit on a lot of items can add up quickly.

So what do you have to do to get started? Well, do your research first so that you don't make the typical mistakes most people do when pricing your items for sale. Once you have narrowed down your choices of what parts are most profitable to sell, take the step toward increasing your income, learn and start making money.

Any additional income that is worth your time is going to require some effort on your part. The good news is many people find that they can make more money, while spending less time doing so utilizing the access provided by the Internet.

The earning potential compared to the typical day job is unlimited.

Give yourself a chance and take the first step toward opening your own Ebay Appliance Parts Store - Don't Forget to Do Your Homework BEFORE Investing Any Money... First!

Advertise & Make Money with Craigslist

The world wide web has given us the great opportunity and freedom to do business all around the world from wherever we may happen to be with just a connection to the internet. This same advantage is also available to billions of others, selling all sorts of products and services, many of which will be similar to yours.

Competition is, therefore, fierce and because of the sheer scale of the web, unless your web site stands out and makes its presence known, your business will be doomed to mediocrity at best, if not failure, however excellent your product or service may be.

For your business to succeed, it will need to differentiate itself in some way from others. You need to take serious and drastic measures to promote your website. Mercifully, advertising on Craigslist can be done in many ways, the best of which are listed below:

How to Get Paid with Broke Appliances

I've bought used washing machines and clothes dryers several times at the right price. You can make thousands of dollars a month buying and selling used appliances.

Building a Side Business Selling Used Appliances is in Awesome Side Income Stream

When I first started with Appliance Repair Company and didn't know how to Advertise the Right way, the Side Income we made with used washer, dryers, and stove mostly helped us out a lot.

Tip: the REALLY GOOD Deals are in washers, dryers and stoves; refrigerators are too risky in my opinion when you first start out and they are hard to handle especially if you are a one man show.

2nd Tip: Washer & Dryer Sets go for the BIG Bucks! But, when money is tight people will still pay for single appliances (don't pass them up if it is a good deal).

How Much Should You Pay for Used Appliances to Flip? (I am glad You Asked)

Price Range - It depends on your area and what you can sell them for, I will explain.

Typically you should pay;

Washers (top loads) - $20 to $30

Dryers - $15 to $25

Washer & Dryer Sets - $50 to $100

Stoves - (Electric Only) $25 to $50

Note: I would NOT suggest you purchase Frontload Washers (you need experience and test thoroughly before buying this washer it can come with a lot of problems you won't find out till you get it home to test especially tub issues & worn tub bearings... NOT Worth It! Pass on them until you KNOW what you are doing)

So, Where Do You Find the Deals?

1. Craigslist - is an AWESOME Resource. You want to target the ones listed by individuals NOT used appliance stores, rent-a-centers, businesses or people that just LOVE their shiny appliances. Look for the one on Craigslist that has been relisted several times... that's a bargain.

2. Yard Sales, Garage Sales & Estates Sales - at yard sales you want to be the first or the last, let me explain. Get there first to find out how reasonable and motivated they are to sell.

If the price is too high, doesn't worry nine times out of ten it won't sell and you should make a note of the address and the appliance condition. If it is a good looking appliance and very little (I teach you how to diagnose by asking questions) wrong with come back at about the yard sale or garage sale is over and they will practically give it you.

3. Local Auctions - (Salvation Army, Storage Bins, etc...) Find out where they are selling household goods and appliances in your area and you should go there if nothing else but get educated on what they are selling for and what kind of condition the appliances are in. In my area the Salvation Army has in Auction every Tuesday (or they use to I haven't been in a while) and you can arrive at least a ½ hour early to browse and inspect the appliances.

Tip: Get to know the People that have Storage Facilities and find out when they hold their auctions (because there are always customers that stop paying or move away & you will be surprised at what they leave behind).

4. Free Classified Ads - (craigslist, kijjii, backpage, usfreeads, etc...) keep an eye on all the free classified ads in your area for great deals.

5. Recycle - find the recycling companies and take any of the unwanted appliances you get or cannot sell and sell them for scrape. I would wait until I got a good size load for the trailer I purchased and take them to the recycling company down the street.

I have made as high as $168 for one load... not bad for 15 to 20 minutes of them unloading it for me.

What Appliances Should You Sell

What appliances should you sell when you are first starting out? Hands down the ones I suggest are the easiest ones first and the brands that are the less expensive to repair.

And they are;

Kenmore, Whirlpool & Maytag... Period!

Now, I know some of you are going to disagree with me and that's fine. It is YOUR business YOU decide what appliances you want to sell. I am giving you my advice from my TRIALS & ERROR experience.

Example, when I first started I would purchase used top load GE washers that had a circuit board timer. I sold 3 of them. Because YOU are a Company with INTEGRITY.

You offer a 90 Day Warranty (we will talk about that shortly) if the appliance stops working or has a problem, you will go back and troubleshoot only to find out it is the circuit ($100 to $150) to repair. Which makes the appliance too costly to repair and no longer a profit. Now you have to REFUND the Customer and remove the appliance and it is ONLY good for Junk!

I sold 3 GE Washer and had to REFUND the customers. Remove the appliance and all were nothing but junk. I never purchased GE Washers with circuit boards again. I would only take them if they were FREE, and only for Junk!

Warranty - If you want to STAND out from the crowd. You should offer a 60 to 90 Day Warranty (I offered 90 Days). Everyone offers 30 days. Because you are a Company of INTEGRITY, you will have Customers knocking down Your door to buy appliances from you.

Tip: Every time I would place an appliance for sale on Craigslist it would usually sell in 24 to 48 hours and I would have 5 to 10 people calling after it was sold on a WAITING List for the next appliance. How? PICTURES!

Appliance Pictures - the old saying, “ a picture is worth a thousand words” so true! Clean the appliance before you take pictures and put it up for sale. Also, take pictures front, back, and inside.

Trust me, you will get so MANY more calls and customers begging to purchase your appliances and they will WAIT for weeks sometimes until you have one for sell.

Make Money with Your Website on Auto Pilot

How to Make Money with Your Appliance Repair Website on Auto Pilot? AdSense & Affiliate Ads

I have been getting a check from Google for over 7 years by placing ads on my website and I don't have to work to do it.

What is AdSense?

For those of you that don't know I will be brief and if you still need more information just "Google" it or go to YouTube and watch some videos on the topic.

AdSense is nothing more than you going to Google request an AdSense Account (it's FREE). And you will place ads (go to YouTube to learn how to place ads) on your site for certain topics (i.e. refrigerators, washing machines, mixers, microwaves, etc...).

When someone lands on your site and clicks on the ad that goes somewhere else YOU get paid for that click. You don't sell or ship anything. You got PAID because they clicked on your link... Period!

Tip: Never Place Ads on pages that will Promote Your Competition. Don't Put Ads on Your Front Page (except the ones I am about to show you) and not on your Appliance Repair Pages. If you need more information let me know.

Here are the Adsense Ads that Make you Money on Auto Pilot;

Best Washer and Dryer 2016

Best Refrigerators 2016

2016 Top 7 Frontload Washers

2016 Top Rated Stand Mixers

Best Washer Dryer Combo 2016

I am sure by now you have notice that the words “Best” & “2016” are always in the title. That’s right! Those are the Money Makers! Always place the “Best” and the Current Year “2016”

Note: If you purchased your Appliance Repair Website from us, we do this for you when you get your Adsense account from Google. If not, let me know and I can help.

Easy money guys, don’t pass this up. All you have to do is get your Free Account and Place Your Ads and you get paid once you reach a $100.
